During the year 1890-1891, the German Government has been engaged in a series of negotiations with the British Government, with a view to arriving at a settlement of the question of the German Colonies. The negotiations have been conducted by the German Government and it is believed that a settlement will be reached in the near future.

The German Government has been informed that the British Government is prepared to accept the German proposals, and that the negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily.

Very respectfully,
The German Government
